

convert or not? a valid foreign driving licence

I have a privileged status (M.F.A. card).

YES

You do not have to, but may convert your valid driving licence.

You do want to convert your driving licence: if you are registered in the BRP, please apply at a sub-municipality office, if not, please apply directly to RDW.info@rdw.nl.

NO
My driving licence was issued less than 10 years ago, in an EU/EFTA country.

YES

Until the licence expires, you do not have to, but may convert your valid licence. If you do, follow the diagram to the bottom left.

EFTA countries

European Free Trade Association: Iceland, Norway, Liechtenstein, Switzerland. Together with the EU countries they form the EEA.

NO
You have to convert your (or retake the exam for a) driving licence. It is valid for driving in this country up to 2 years (EU/EFTA citizens) or 185 days after BRP-registration.

countries and exceptions

Aruba, Dutch Antilles, Jersey, Isle of Man, Monaco.

Driving licences issued in the countries below can only be exchanged for the specific categories:

Category	Foreign	Dutch

Japan	1B	A/B
Singapore	Cls 2/3	A/B
Andorra	pas. veh.	B
South Korea	Cls 2 ord.	B
Quebec (Can)	Cls 5	B

NO
The country that issued my driving licence is either an EU/EFTA country, or is in the list of countries and exceptions on the left.

NO
...but the 30% tax-rule applies to me, my partner or one of my children.

YES
My licence is issued in an EU/EFTA country.

NO
Your driving licence cannot be converted. You can however take lessons to obtain a Dutch driving licence. Contact an acknowledged driving school and take the exams.

YES
You can submit your application for changing a driving licence at a sub-municipality office.

NO
To convert a valid driving licence submit a Personal Medical Statement and proof of living 185 days or more in the country that issued your licence. [copies of all passport pages, plane-tickets, employer's certificate with salary- or tax documents.]

do not forget

Passport photo in accordance with Dutch regulations, 50 euros, or pin-chip card, your current driving licence, valid identification, also, if applicable: the original 30%-tax rule statement.

important

During the conversion process (2-3 wks) you do not have a driving licence, and are not permitted to drive. Licences composed in a language with non-western characters must have an official translation.

Personal Medical Statement

This form is for regular driving licences only. For exceptions, like a HGV licence, contact the CBR.

This wizard is offered to you by The Hague International Centre.

how to... fill in the medical statement

The form for your personal medical statement can be obtained directly at The Hague International Centre or an acknowledged driving school* for about 25 euros.

Please note

The form is processed by computer. To avoid delays or invalid applications due to processing errors, please:

- use block letters only
- use dark blue or black ink
- completely fill in the circles, do not just use a cross. Not ⊗, but ●
- do not fold the envelope

Important

If any answer to the questions is "yes", your general practitioner must fill in the back of the form.
